We will be reading a book for homework this week called "Where Do Polar Bears Live". Please look at the homework page to find this assignment.

Math-We will be working on multiplication (0, 1, 2, 3, 5, 10, 11) I will be sending flashcards home to practice. We have begun working on our geometry Unit. We will be learning about solid figures- cube, pyramid, rectangular prism, cylinder, sphere, cone. We will learn that solid figures are made up of flat surfaces and curved surfaces. They can have faces (flat surfaces), vertices (corners) and edges. Plane figures have vertices, sides, and angles.

Religion- We will learning about the parts of the Mass. We will continue to talk about Lent and the upcoming Easter Season.
